

Indiana's Telephone Privacy law is working very well, FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen the protections provided by this law. Before the law protection I used to receive several calls per day, now I receive only one per week.